MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Strategic Research

SUBJECT: Research Proposal on Soviet Military Policies

One of the major points I made in my memorandum of 13 August is that Soviet force planning can be understood fully only in terms of how the Soviets contemplate to use it--politically as well as militarily. This question is explored very ably in an IDA Paper I have just received:

 The Political Utility of Strategic Superiority (P-1349, May 1979).
